Sponsored by the Spokane Folklore Society

The Annual Spokane Fall Folk Festival, a free public event, features 6 stages of traditional and ethnic dance, music, workshops, special entertainment, crafts for children, and jamming. Also featured are sales of traditional crafts. Meals may be purchased in the SCC Cafeteria. Snacks are available at the Festival Bake Sale.

KPBX FM 91.1 will present a Festival Sampler on air on Saturday from 11 am to 1 pm. A traditional New England Contra dance will close the festival on Saturday and Sunday.

The festival is designed to support our regional folk musicians. Many local folk artists are hidden gems well worth discovering. The festival features about 100 performing groups representing Celtic, bluegrass, blues, African, Asian, Middle Eastern traditions and more.

History

The first Fall Folk Festival took place in 1996 and was held at the Unitarian Church with about a dozen performing groups. In spite of the unexpected "Ice Storm," 350 people attended the festival. During the next few years the festival grew so rapidly that it outgrew the Unitarian Church and moved to Glover Middle School, until it outgrew the space available. In 2005 the festival expanded to include both Saturday and Sundays.

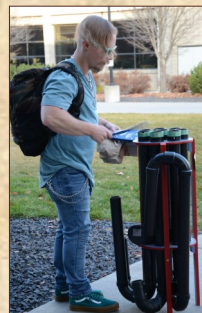

Currently, the Festival is at Spokane Community, showcasing around 100 performing groups.

The Fall Folk Festival is made possible by hundreds of volunteers and performers who donate their time, money and energy to make this festival a success.

Music, Dance & Crafts For All Ages!

Please Support the Festival

The Festival is supported in many ways:

- Button Sales
- T-Shirt & Merchandise Sales
- Friends of the Festival (Individual Sponsors)
- Business Sponsors

All performers and festival organizers donate their time. We need your support to ensure that our long-term impact on the community continues and we are able to keep the Festival a FREE event.

Business Sponsors

All Business Sponsors will be promoted in the Festival Program.

Sponsors of more than $500 will be recognized at each stage before each performance and will be listed on large signs at prominent locations at the Festival.

Major business sponsors ($1,000 or more) will have their logo included on the printed poster and in print media ads prior to the Festival.

All donor names will be listed in the Festival program.

The Spokane Folklore Society, sponsor of the Spokane Fall Folk Festival, is an independent, nonprofit 501(c)3 organization. The Festival will provide tax documentation to all donors.

*Very special thanks to our Sponsors & Friends of the
